Another Planet

Original title: Another Planet

A journey to the depths of imagination and reconstructed memory in one of the most emotionally-charged sites of the 20th century. A state prosecutor, gamers, a graphic designer, a historian and an architect are using the tools of the future to investigate the past. They wander inside the virtual worlds of their own creation. Created as a mosaic of encounters inside the virtual models of Auschwitz, the film reveals the obsession with memory and with the 'Other Planet'.
