Dame Blanche

Original title:

"25th of december, Christmas, a moment of peace, reflection and forgiveness". After the Christmas dinner of a conventional amily the underlying tensions between a mother, a daughter, her fiancé and her stepfather come to the surface. A discussion about the porcelain and the wallpaper degenerates into an argument about a heritage and other conflicts. Just when the peace seems restored and the dessert - a Dame Blanche - is being served, a simple remark causes the shit to hit the fan.
