

FC De Kampioenen I – It's Great to be a Champion

Original title: FC De KampioenKampioen zijn blijft plezant

Boma, fed up with sausages and all the food safety and hygiene regulations, wants to give up his position as manager of the Boma Meat Industry LLC. Acquaintance Tartuffe suggests that he buys a completely worthless estate with an adjoining vineyard, located in 'La Douce France', both owned by an Emir. Boma likes the idea of living like God in France with Goedele, but it's not easy for him to abandon his football team, FC The Champions. At Tartuffe's request, a friendly match is set up with his Provencal football team: Saint-Tintin. Boma then has a chance to invite the Champions to his estate. Surely, they will understand his decision when they set eyes on this paradise....
