

Gabriel

Original title: Gabriel

An orphan grows up in a convent. The nuns call the little boy Gabriel, after the angel. Sylvia, the young nun who found the orphan, is like a mother to the boy. She adores the child and calls him 'my little angel'. Because of all the angel stuff, Gabriel starts to think he's a real angel. Sylvia supports him in this fantasy. Every morning they look for a sign of wings on his shoulders. But Sylvia and the child don't find anything. Gabriel gets tired of waiting for wings. One day an old gardener says that Gabriel is human. The little angel feels offended. Gabriel will prove his 'angelhood' in a divine way.
