

Héliotropes

Original title: Héliotropes

When a man chases a woman, in the end, who becomes the hunter and who the prey? This is what intrigued the painter. It's a story that balances on the thin verge of attraction and repulsion, fantasy and reality. This short moment of intense passion casts doubt on the physical and sexual difference between a man and a woman. What happens to the mind of a viewer in the end?
