
Her Voice

Original title: Her Voice

Her Voice* is a blend of autobiographical reflections indistinguishably intertwined with the story of three female icons: Lola Montez, Hildegard von Bingen and Betty Boop, who are all played by Lisbeth Gruwez. A corporeal language of spasms and 'crazy' poses aids in dissecting the forced masquerade of women as 'femme fatale', 'mystic' and 'sex toy'. The visual vocabulary keeps a fine balance between suggestion and representation in order to provoke an intimate experience. Her Voice offers an enigmatic stream of consciousness that resists conventional narrative expectations. Somewhere between the desperate Boop-Oop-a-Doop's of a vintage Betty Boop and the film experiments of Maya Deren. Her Voice reflects a woman's subjectivity and her relation to the external world.
