

I Waited Night & Day

Original title: J'attendrai le jour et la nuit

In I Waited Night & Day, a group of patients and staff members of three different residential care centres have their say. We see how they experience the Covid crisis while being confronted with the inadequacy of the current care system. Utilising footage of the residents, archive material of bumbling politicians, interviews with all involved and Minister Wouter Beke, the film shows how the Covid-19 pandemic has painfully exposed the failure of political policy in the care sector.
