

Kairos

Original title: Kairos

In the aftermath of the Great Temporal Catastrophe, an apocalyptic event that brought an end to linear time, the company CTF (Collective Time Flow) developed technology to extract crude time and process it into a quantifiable commodity, reinstating a new era of human history and civilisation. Larry Church, a renegade employee, is stationed at an outpost on the edge of the Desynchronised Zone. Disobeying his orders, he takes his chance and ventures beyond the grid in an attempt to garner some raw time for himself.
