

Palaver

Original title: Palaver

Three coloured students give us their view on our society. This is a rare point of view, because normally we see a movie from our own society's point of view. The three students are spending the weekend at the seaside, when they notice a sportscar driving by. A black man drives the sportscar and by his side is a pretty, white girl. Each one of the students gives us his version of the mystery surrounding the unknown couple.
