

Plop in de Wolken

Original title: Plop in de Wolken

One day Plop learns that his grandfather, Kabouter Knap, is very sick. The only thing that can save him is the juice of the carbuncle root, which must be administered before the hourglass runs out. The only problem is that Plop's grandfather lives all the way on the other side of the gnome forest. Together, Plop and friends build a big hot air balloon, so they can get to Grandfather in time. But things do not go as planned...
