

Profound Loneliness

Original title: De grote eenzaamheid

Paul and his wife Maria own a pig farm. When Maria's sister Helena moves in with them, Paul falls in love with her. Helena decides to tell her sister and moves out of the farm. Paul and Maria's love is strengthened again when they have to face the end of their business because of swine fever. But when Helena moves back to the farm she and Paul give in to temptation. Maria is then diagnosed with lung cancer and after a long struggle she dies, making Paul realize that even with Helena by his side he will be a lonely man.
