

Rising Up At Night

Original title: Tongo Saa

Kinshasa, with a population of 17 million people, is plunged into darkness and insecurity. In a relentless quest for light, Kudi mobilises the people of his neighbourhood to buy a stolen cable in order to restore electricity in time for the end-of-year festivities. Rising Up At Night is immersed in the beauty of Kinshasa's nights, and presents a subtle portrait of a population that is reinventing itself in an environment plagued by violence and uncertainty.
