

Sinterklaas en de Wakkere Nachten

Original title: Sinterklaas en de Wakkere Nachten

Saint Nicholas and Helper Pete are confronted with noise during their nightly walks across the rooftops. First a bell, then a trumpet and even an entire drum band: they all seem to keep the citizens deliberately from sleeping. Saint Nicholas and Helper Pete get blamed for these sleepless nights: everybody thinks that they are creating all this noise. In the meantime, Frutselia is running a shop full of sleeping remedies. Lately, her business has been doing really well. She has a cunning strategy: her son Milan has to keep everybody awake, to create as many new customers for the shop as possible. Saint Nicholas is very sad to hear that the people blame him and Pete. There's no other option than to prove their innocence. While he keeps on worrying, his friends Helper Pete, Conchita, Ramon, the professor and the captains try their best to cheer him up.
