

Still

Original title: Stil levend

How do you live after suicide? Through a series of poetic still lifes, documentary filmmaker Nathalie Basteyns paints a moving portrait of families struggling with this question. One lost a son, Freek, 10 years ago; another a daughter, Eva, barely a year before filming. Stefaan, a former Olympic swimmer who survived his attempt, completes the triptych. Life goes on for those left behind but, in many respects, life has also stopped. But as Stefaan looks towards the future, so too do the families of Eva and Freek. What started out as a film about loss and grief gradually develops into a life-affirming story of courage and survival.
