

Surface

Original title: Surface

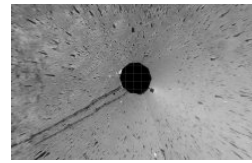

The images, which are always stupefying, of a NASA mission to Mars in 2006; an extract from 'Lotte in Weimar' by Thomas Mann; an eye-witness account of an extraterrestrial sighting somewhere in deepest darkest Finland. This is the programme presented by the Belgian artist Fanny Zaman in her first film, comprising a prologue, followed by two separate acts. Through manifold, discreet shifts, from the image to the text board, from the text itself, to the spoken word which re-appropriates it. Surface ties and unties the certitudes of meaning as it progresses. What is seeing? What is knowing? What are the forces of narrative?
