

The Heysel Stadium Disaster

Original title: Het Heizeldrama

In 1985, fans at the European Cup final in Brussels clashed, and a wall collapsed, the ensuing mayhem leaving 39 fans dead and 400 injured. We follow four protagonists through the day: Belgian gendarmerie captain Johan Mahieu; doctor Christine De Smedt; British football hooligan Terry Wilson; and Italian Juventus fan Otello Lorentini. Through their eyes we see how organisational blunders make everything go wrong. We discover how each of them reacts very differently to extreme stress. And when public opinion later demands that heroes and villains be identified, the truth is twisted and manipulated to benefit a select few.
