This Is Not Your Song

Original title:

We all know the Phenomenon: listening to a song we think it's a tune made in our territory. Until a foreign friend challenges you and says: " no, this is our song!" In most cases it ends with a funny discussion and a lot of drinks, but when a situation like this is set in the Balkan area, the outcome might not be so friendly. Bulgarian filmmaker Adela Peeva ran into this conflict and set out for a trip that took her all over the Balkan area to find out what exactly is the power of a song. One warning: after having seen this film it will be hard to get the tune out of your head.
