

Title Safe III

Original title: Title Safe III

Title Safe III is the third episode of the project Title Safe. Walter Verdin asks colleagues to each make a short video. There is no set topic. Each artist works autonomously according to a few simple technical editing rules. The title refers to a technical term used in video and television editing studios: 'title safe area', the part of the video image where text may safely be inserted. Each artist is free to communicate his own 'plaisir du texte' to the public - or not. This minimal framework allows Verdin to combine and mix these works into an integrated musical whole.
