

Twenty-One + Seven

Original title: Eenentwintig + Zeven

Seven-year-old Vibe lives with her grandparents. At the weekends, she travels over 100 kilometres to visit her parents. The magic of childhood slowly fades to make way for reality and it is at this turning point I ask her how all this came to be. The answer leads me from the idyllic landscapes of Moerkerke to Vibe's mother, my sister Britt, who lives behind closed curtains, isolated from the outside world. In an audiovisual play of seeing and being seen, of words and silence, I join mother and daughter in an indirect dialogue. Through it, I try to answer Vibe's questions - as well as a few of my own.
