

White Shadow

Original title:

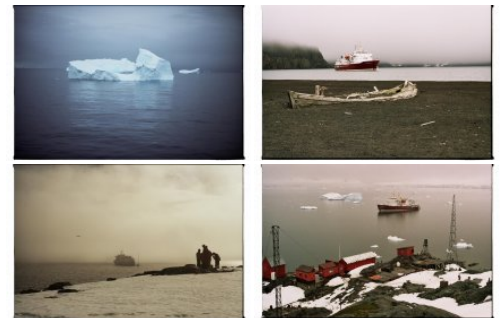

The first scientific expedition in the history of human exploration was launched in 1897. Destination: Antarctica which, for more than 17 centuries, had been nothing but an idea, a presumption, a myth. The Belgica expedition successfully reached Antarctica. One century later, documentary filmmaker Didier Volckaert charts the same course on an icebreaker packed with tourists. Unlike most Antarctica documentaries, White Shadows is not concerned with tales of heroic discovery or ecological disaster. Rather, it is a personal exploration into the human quest for knowledge; an attempt to probe the boundaries between improvement and digression.

CREDITS

DIRECTOR: Didier Volckaert
PRODUCER: Didier Volckaert
EDITING: Didier Volckaert
PHOTOGRAPHY: Didier Volckaert

TECHNICAL SPECS

RUNNING TIME: 57'
ASPECT RATIO: 16:9
SOUND FORMAT: stereo (2.0)
RELEASE FORMAT: Analog Betacam
COLOUR: Colour

CREATION DETAILS

TYPE: Film
PRODUCTION SHARE: Majority Flemish Production
YEAR OF PRODUCTION: 2009
PRODUCTION STATUS: Completed
ORIGINAL LANGUAGE: Dutch, English, French, Norwegian, Roumania

CONTACT & SALES

MORE INFO

flandersimage.com